Doubling efforts to combat illegal trade

Renewed joint international operations are successfully targeting gangs and criminal organizations involved in the illicit trade in counterfeit goods of all types

Recent raids across Europe have seen swoops and seizures of all types of counterfeit goods from car parts to cigarettes. Over 1.2 million counterfeit goods and 130 million cigarettes were seized during an international joint customs operation coordinated by the European Anti-Fraud Office (OLAF). The Operation, code-named Replica, targeted the import of counterfeit goods by sea. Under the coordination of OLAF, customs authorities carried out targeted physical or X-ray controls on several hundred selected containers. These checks uncovered a wide array of counterfeit goods including cigarettes, perfumes, car and bicycle spare parts, toys, fashion accessories and electric devices. The seizures of cigarettes alone prevented the loss of Euro 25 million in customs duties and taxes. In terms of overall seizures in this operation, the value of the equivalent genuine products is estimated to be over Euro 65 million. The EU Commissioner responsible for customs and anti-fraud said the operation demonstrated what can be achieved when customs authorities, international partners and industry work together to fight fakes. He added counterfeit goods defraud consumers, harm legitimate businesses and cause huge losses to public revenues, while counterfeit cigarettes also undermine public health policies – with the only ones to benefit being fraudsters and criminals. During the operational phase, OLAF facilitated the cooperation between all the EU Member States, Norway, Switzerland, 11 international partners, Interpol, Europol and the World Customs Organization.

The mission of the European Anti-Fraud Office (OLAF) is threefold: it protects the financial interests of the European Union by investigating fraud, corruption and any other illegal activities; it detects and investigates serious matters relating to the discharge of professional duties by members and staff of the EU institutions and bodies that could result in disciplinary or criminal proceedings; and it supports the EU institutions, in particular the European Commission, in the development and implementation of anti-fraud legislation and policies.

This Top 25 Suppliers of Anti-counterfeiting & Product Security Technology Directory presents active players who also assist in these efforts by providing products and services for instantly validating product authenticity. Solutions include RFID chips, tags and labels, holograms, smart technology, tamper-evident closures, special inks, nano-materials, readers, printers, recognition equipment, software solutions and other forms of relevant auto ID technology for manufacturers and governments to help them protect brands and revenue.
